Overview

The Mail for Exchange (MfE) Device Management (DM) adapter may not produce desired results when trying to modify MfE settings.

Description

While it is possible to construct an MfE adapter and read values from the MfE management tree, it is not possible to modify the values using the DM adapter. Either an unspecified error or `KErrPermissionDenied` is returned by the adapter, regardless of the client application's capabilities.

Solution

Currently no known solution.
