

Movino

Movino is a collection of applications for streaming and broadcasting live video from smartphones. The main applications are the following:

- A client for S60 smartphones
- A smartphone client for J2ME
- A gui application and a QuickTime component for OS X
- A video server for linux
- A drupal web front end

These applications are available as open source (GPL or LGPL licensed).