

Rules of Participation for the Review a Wiki Article Contest (September 1 - September 30 2009)

The intent of this contest is to collect the best reviews of Forum Nokia Wiki articles from the developer community. To enter, simply review any Forum Nokia Wiki article (other than your own) during September with a short (two to three paragraphs) entry on the article's comments page. If the article is of high quality, also add the term `ReviewerApproved` within double curly braces as the first line in the article. Be sure you can back up your approval with your comments. See the Wiki Reviewer Instructions for instructions and specific reviewing rules.

All entries submitted during the time period will be subjectively judged according to presentation, language, straight-forwardness, over all quality and quantity of the reviews . Entries are to be original work not previously published, or in the case of previously published material, you must own the rights to re-submit the material to Forum Nokia Wiki. If the material is previously published, a reference and link to the original source must be provided. Only entries during the contest period 00:01 GMT September 1st, 2009 to 23:59 GMT September 30, 2009 will be accepted for this contest. Winners will be selected shortly afterwards.

The winners will receive a Nokia N97 multimedia device. Several winners will be selected on the basis of both review quality and quantity. In addition, one Nokia N97 device will be given away at random, so you could win with just one review.
